C O P Y R I G H T

I retain all copyright to my photographs. By commissioning me, you may use purchased works for our agreed purpose only - ie, sharing media versions online or privately displaying printed products. You are prohibited to personally or commercially distribute, re-distribute, repurpose or reproduce in part or full, any element of my photography by any means or media whatsoever. Removal of my copyright, signature or any other mark which identifies any work as mine - by edit, manipulation or cropping is deemed as copyright infringement liable to prosecution. I do not permit my work to be used for the promotion of any other business without written consent.

SIMPLY PUT -
What does this mean for you? Essentially you are not allowed to create copies (edited or not) of my work for any financial gain without an agreed Commercial Print Release. I have a distinct recognisable style & inferior products misrepresent my business.

REFERENCE USE -
I often support fellow creatives in the provision of free or licensed reference images. This means that my unedited photographs may be used for artistic, educational, scholarly & personal projects for the purpose of improving artistic skills.

COMMERCIAL USE -
Where I am approached by commercial artists for reference photographs, from which they intend to create original & / or printed copies from their derivitive artworks - I am paid a small fee for the use of my photographs. The artist may discount or gift owners resulting artworks purely at their own discretion but are not obliged to do so.

PROMOTIONAL USE -
As author & perpetual copyright holder I may use selected works freely without restriction or payment for the digital or printed business marketing & promotion of Scotia M Photography - with the exeption of exclusions detailed & in recognition of your privacy indication.
